Title: New IT Service for the Financial Sector to Showcase at ICT Event this Month

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window displaying a USA Today article. The address bar shows the URL: <http://content.usatoday.com/topics/article/Europe+Commission/03C623FbPp9K752>. The page features a search bar with the text "Stories, photos, graphics and more" and a "Search" button. Below the search bar is an advertisement for "THE NEW NIKON D90". The USA Today logo is visible in the top left corner, and a navigation menu includes links for Home, News, Travel, Money, Sports, Life, Tech, and Weather. The article title is "New IT Service for the Financial Sector to Showcase at ICT Event this Month". The article text reads: "A new service for the financial sector is due to be showcased at the ICT 2008 event on November 25-27. The service is based on reducing the complexity of Grid computing for the end users. Grid computing is of course no stranger to the financial sector." Below the article text are "Related topics" for "European Commission" and "European Union". At the bottom of the article area, there are "Previous" and "Next" navigation buttons. A message states "You must be logged in to leave a comment. Log in | Register". The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the "démarrer" button and several open applications, including "European Commission...", "Simon Alexandre pou...", "NewITService", and "slping_NewITServic...". The system clock shows "13:06".
